PETERSBURG. LATE STORM-A YOUNG LADY ARTISTE-A

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] APRIL 10, 1877.

Mrs. Mary Stewart, wife of Alexander Hamilton, Esq., and daughter of Mr. Alexander Donnan, died very suddenly this morning about 2 o'clock. Her illness was ment of salaries shows to have gained busiof very brief duration, and her death is a great shock to a large circle of friends and relatives. Deceased was in the twenty-sixth year of her age, and a lady of rare graces and accomplishments.

We have a beautiful day after the stormy did not full until this morning. It is the their lifetime, at least, such a high tide has never been witnessed in the Appomattox as that of yesterday and the one of this Society here is showing much interest in a concert to be given next week for the benefit of a young lady of this city to enable ber to go abroad and cultivate her voice, which is one of rare sweetness and compass. The young lady is Miss Tuck, now in the eighteenth year of her age. Recently she came under the observation of so greatly inspired with her rare gifts of voice that he offered to provide her with a orough education in the Conservatory of Milan on the condition that after the completion of her training she would engage er professional services to him for a term This offer was accepted on the advice of her friends, and she is soon to go abroad. Those who have heard her voice in private entertainments testify to its surprising compass and richness, and all Petersburg is now anxious to hear ber.

There is some talk among the liquordealers of Petersburg of holding a meeting at an early day to unite with the dealers in Richmond and other places in testing the constitutionality of the Moffett bill. There are about one hundred dealers in Petersburg, and to a man, it is understood, they are opposed to the bill. ROBIN ADAIR.

AFTON, NEAR PARNASSUS, April 7, 1877. Gentle spring, in all its loveliness, is upon us, and our people are merry and lighthearted at the flattering prospects ahead. Hayes has issued the Greeley command in South Carolina-" Back, thieves!"-and our Legislature having adjourned, after giving us, although at the heel of the session, the assurance that whiskey must assist to fill up the coffers of our depleted Treasury; all of which tends to increase the era of good feeling that Hayes promised to bring about. In fact, we are so happy that we are not concerned about the coming man for Governor, and if East Virginia selects a man of the Hampton stripe our section will go for Thinking it might interest some of the cultivating tobacco, I beg leave to relate he result of an experiment in tobacco that Mr. Robert Dinkle's land, and put it in tobaceo. It yielded a thousand pounds to the acre, and was recently sold in your city at the Tobacco Exchange as heavy shipping tobacco, and brought from $5.50 to $9.75. One of our cattle-dealers has lately returned from your market, having disposed heretofere, but will in future give Richmond the preference.

Your news correspondent "Penn" gives us, through the Dispatch, news from the Pardon the digression, but I would like to ask if your worthy Coroner, Dr. Taylor, still wears in his hair the bouquets he so honorably won from the young ladies of your city; and as we are now unearthing some rich minerals, the value of which we are totally ignorant, we would like to procure his valuable services in analyzing them, provided you could loan him to us for a short period. We cannot premise that the "coronial department" would "pan" out well hereabouts, but in the analytical department the result, I am sure, would be SUTHERLIN'S, April 7, 1877. To-day the people of Milton township, Caswell county, N. C., decided by election to subscribe $15,000 towards building the · Milton and Sutherlin Narrow-Gauge rail-More than three-tifths of the registered voters endorsed the subscription, while only about twenty votes were rethe building of the road, at this time and in future so important to Milton and vicinity. Before the era of railroads this was one of the most thrifty and prosperous towns in North Carolina, but of late years it has been greatly damaged by competition with places having railroad facilities. It was for this reason that the good people of Caswell voted so solidly to-day in favor of the subscription. The road will connect Milton corded against it. This result will ensure scription. The road will connect Milton with this point on the Richmond and Danville railroad, will be eight miles long, with a gauge of three feet, and will cost $80,000. This estimate covers the expense of a bridge over Dan river.

A large number of colored citizens came up to the polls, and seemed to enjoy the opportunity of voting with the "white folks," free from all danger of being turned out of church or turned off by their sweethearts PREPARED BY H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON, MASS. for so doing. They appeared to be more hilarious and joyous and far less sinister than at elections generally.
